Tribal Housing Plans Focus Of Talks

By Jess Macinko

The Goldendale Sentinel

Army Corps of Engineers Land Changes?: A recent meeting in Dallesport addresses the possibility of new tribal housing in compensation for loss of fishing grounds. Will properties in Dallesport and nearby areas be developed for Native American tribal housing? The short answer: probably. But few details have been set in stone.

The Dallesport-Murdock Community Center was all but full for a Thursday night public meeting on the proposed housing projects. Presentations by the Army Corps of Engineers (Corps) and the Yakama Nation Housing Authority (YNHA) addressed plans for two separate projects, both in pre-planning stages.

The projects address present-day consequences of a historic wrong. Beginning in 1934, Corps-led construction of the Bonneville, The Dalles, and John Day dams flooded native fishing settlements along the lower Columbia River. Loss of these sites displaced members of four regional tribes and limited their ability to exercise treaty-protected rights to fish "at all usual and accustomed stations."

Despite the creation of some replacement housing, homelessness and substandard living conditions remain prevalent among the descendants of the flooded communities. The Corps determined in 2013 that "between 44 and 85 tribal families who lived near the Bonneville and The Dalles dams prior to construction did not receive relocation assistance."

Further Corps assessment identified an unmet obligation to construct a replacement village for communities submerged by The Dalles Dam. At Thursday's meeting, Corps engineer and project manager Eric Stricklin discussed an effort to make good: The Dalles Dam Tribal Housing Village Development Plan.

The plan has identified three potential sites for replacement housing: Corps-owned properties near Spearfish Lake and the Horsethief Butte area of Columbia Hills State Park, and a privately owned parcel in Wishram the Corps would buy pending feasibility studies.

Stricklin said the three sites encompass about 45 buildable acres. The Corps will fully fund construction. Questions that remain unanswered at this time are who will operate and maintain the project, and how many people it will house.

The next step is further screening of the sites, including gathering public input. The Corps expects to schedule a public meeting in the next two to three months. The entire planning process is expected to take two and a half years. If the sites are found unfeasible, the Corps will evaluate others.

Yakama Nation Housing Authority

Members of the YNHA board of commissioners presented a development proposal for property in Dallesport. The project, which comprises 18 four-bed and 12 two- to three-bed homes, is intended for tribal families currently homeless along the Columbia River. The proposed site is a parcel known as the Hagen property, between Old Ferry Road and Sunridge Avenue.

The project hinges on a tax credit that's yet to be approved by the Washington State Housing Finance Commission. Presuming they are awarded the tax credit and all goes as planned, YNHA expects the project to be done by 2019.

Public concerns

The bulk of the two-and-a-half-hour meeting comprised public comment and questions. Key concerns included anticipated detriment to property values, strain on community resources, and removal of the properties from the tax base.

In short, Stricklin said it's too early in the Corps assessment process to address those concerns in detail. The two Corps-owned properties are already tax-exempt; the Wishram property would become so if developed as tribal housing. As for community impact, Stricklin said the Corps' vetting process would take that into account, both in terms of local input and feasibility studies.

The YNHA project will be owned by a private investor—an arrangement that necessitates strict tenant agreements, according to the YNHA board. "We have to evict people if they don't abide by the rules," said YNHA Secretary-Treasurer Randy Settler.

As with the Corps, YNHA's overall answer to community impact questions was that solutions would be found, but it's too early to discuss details. Tenants will pay for their use of utilities, and the project will cover the cost of hooking up to existing water and sewer lines. However, concerns that the project would use up Dallesport's capacity for further development—without contributing to expanding that capacity—went largely unaddressed.

Likewise, anticipated strain on law enforcement, firefighting, and school resources met with appeals to cooperation, but few specifics. Like any low-income housing, the YNHA project will be exempt from property tax. However, the project may be eligible for a payment in lieu of tax (PILOT) agreement.

Book Report

Only Beloved by Mary Balogh

If you like historical romance fiction, this is the author to go to. A wonderful writer, she gives us romance, good plots and characters to remember. I eagerly look forward to any new books she puts out.

From the legendary New York Times bestselling author of Only a Kiss and Only a Promise comes the final book in the rapturous Survivor's Club series, where the future of one man will be decided by a lost - but never forgotten - love . . .

For the first time since the death of his wife, the Duke of Stanbrook is considering remarrying and finally embracing happiness for himself. With that thought comes the treasured image of a woman he met briefly a year ago and never saw again.

Dora Debbins relinquished all hope of marrying when a family scandal left her in charge of her younger sister. Earning a modest living as a music teacher, she's left with only an unfulfilled dream. Then one afternoon, an unexpected visitor makes it come true.

For both George and Dora that brief first encounter was as fleeting as it was unforgettable. Now is the time for a second chance. And while even true love comes with a risk, who are two dreamers to argue with destiny?

Narrating the Landscape: Print Culture and American Expansion in the 19th Century

June 3, 2017 2:00 PM - 3:00 PM

<http://www.maryhillmuseum.org>

Join author and art historian Matt Johnston for a look at how mass-produced visual material – illustrated railroad and steamboat guidebooks, tourist literature, geological surveys and ethnographic studies – brought new meanings to the interplay of time, space, and place as American continental expansion peaked. In his new book Narrating the Landscape, Johnston, an associate professor of art history at Lewis & Clark College, reveals the crucial role of print and visual culture in shaping 19th-century America, offering fresh insight into the landscapes Americans beheld and imagined during this formative era. Program will be followed by a book signing; books available in the Museum Store. Admission to event free with museum admission.

If you would like your voice heard, please attend our meetings. We welcome your input.

Please join us for the next Council meeting on June 8th. 7pm at the Dallesport Community Center.

Guest speaker will be Susy Wilson of W.O.W. Weed. She will talk about the many statistics and data on the legal cannabis industry across the state and the info for Klickitat County as well.

Pot Ban Made Permanent

By Jess Macinko

The sunset clause has been repealed, cementing Klickitat County's ban on marijuana business.

The Board of County Commissioners accepted a planning commission recommendation to repeal the sunset clause of Ordinance O063015, which prohibits the establishment of new marijuana businesses and limits expansion of pre-existing ones.

The repeal means the ordinance no longer has an expiration date. Barring future action by the board, it will stand as county code.

There may be a silver lining for the county's established growers, processors, and retailers. Though the ban limits expansion of pre-existing businesses, Planning Department Director Mo-chi Linbad said businesses established before Oct. 21, 2014 should be able to expand or make improvements concurrent with limits defined in their original licenses. Linbad advised businesses to contact the Planning Department with improvement proposals to determine their eligibility. Goldendale Sentinel

Dallesport Community Council Meeting Update

By Bill Morris

The Army Corps of Engineers gave a presentation in which they explained their part of Buying and TRANSFERRING lands for Indian housing and land replacement. The Sites given were Spearfish Lake, Horse Thief Lake and Columbia Hills State Park - Crawford Oaks as well as a site in Wishram Heights that is a ready to build subdivision.

The Yakama Nation Housing Authority gave a presentation about the Dallesport " Hagen Property Site ", highlights of the presentation were Housing Authority control and maintenance, Klickitat County Sheriff law enforcement and the project comes in phases, One, Two, Three and Four. Phase One is housing for current homeless Native Americans. When asked about Phases Two and beyond the questions was answered with a " not sure yet ". however in the presentation material there were line items for Education/ Cultural Center, Casino and Hotel as future employment.

Question...I did attend the meeting and must honestly say there was very few details explained and many dodged questions. I certainly hope we start getting real answers and soon. If I remember correctly, there was disclosure of a "private investor(s)" in all of this. If that is indeed true,who is the investor(s) ?

Answer,,, Raymond James creates and issues Tax Free Bonds for such projects. They approach investors and create pools or groups and then sell the project in that way based on the value of the project as well at the Tax Free

Status of the Bonds.... this is oversimplified but covers the gist of it..

Question...How can this land and its dwellings not be subject to taxes and laws that the community has to abide by ?

Answer...The land in this case will be purchased by another Nation, specifically the Yakama Nation, they do have tax free status based on Treaties with the US Government. In the proposed case of the Hagen property, it was stated that the KCSO Bob Songer is the presiding Law Official when it comes to 911 calls, we do not know if that will expire once the tax free bonds are paid off. The Yakama Nation does have their own jurisdictional coverage once the property is paid for. I will be doing more research into this, great question thank you.

Question...I may be incorrect but I think we have a right to know who the private investor(s) is and what their motivations for this are.

Answer.... Disclosure of Tax Free Bond Holders may or may not be public information and I will be checking on that. As for the motivation, Tax Free interest at these levels really adds up. It is all about the money.

The following point was made....A lady in the meeting called us all haters and I found that very disappointing. We are not haters, we are very concerned about the future of our small, quiet, relaxing little town, that is all. Everyone protects their property and family when needed.

Answer..... I personally talked to that party and found her to be a source of good information....there are communication problems within the Yakama Nation and miscommunication between the Yakama and local Tribes. I do wish we would have had more time as she apologized to me and the community as a whole because the Tribe had been misinformed about the nature of the meeting...while it does not excuse anyone, I did except the apology and told her I would extend it to everyone. During our talk after the meeting they expressed gratitude for the opportunity to see how organized our community is and they do understand our points and positions and last but not least they are looking forward to working with us...

Question...The approximately 47 acres (two properties) has been made available for purchase by either Yakama Nation or Army Corps of Engineers?

Answer... The Hagen Family sold an OPTION to purchase this property to the Yakama Nation Housing Authority. This is the HUD arm of the CTOTYN.

The USACoE is acting to Purchase Replacement land for underwater homes and property. This action is SEPARATE from the actions of the YNHA.

Questions...Does anyone have any info on an apartment project by the storage units that the Native Americans plan to build? The only information I have is 2nd hand so unsure what's true & what's not.

Question... I was told that the sale of the property was being sold by Don McDermott our Community Council president

Answer..... NO....the property is a private sale between the Hagen Family and the YNHA

Question....I'm sure that can't be true because that would definitely be a conflict of interest. Please set me straight if anyone has the correct information.

Answer...Neither Don McDermott nor the company he works with had anything to do with this sale... One of the Hagen children is a real estate agent in Vancouver WA and it was he and he alone that did this.

Question...Can anyone elaborate more on the comments about the meeting and them saying something about a Casino and/or a hotel for employment?

Answer.... The Yakama Nation Housing Authority during their presentation did in fact state that future employment would be augmented by a Casino and Hotel complex as well as a Cultural Center and Satellite Education Complex.

Question...Are they talking here in Dallesport?

Answer.... The Yakama Nation Housing Authority is looking at placing housing in Dallesport on the Hagen Property. There are multiple phases to their project plans and Phase One is to put in housing... we received no answer when we asked about Phases Two through Four... so there is a lot up in the air and unknown at this time about this we are in contact with YNHA and are waiting for calls to be returned.

Point... The Hagen Property IS NOT ZONED COMMERCIAL and that currently would preclude a hotel motel casino project.... that being said ... the can ask for a change and of course I will make sure that no such development be allowed...and here is why.... Zoning, Transportation, Water, Sewer, Fire... all of these stop that kind of development.... Yes as a community we need to make sure it is not put in the Middle of a Residential Neighborhood.....But we must consider that along US197 or SR 14 that has appropriate access and available services they could request it.... again there is a Asking and then there is a Getting

Point...I know everyone is very passionate about the proposed housing development. We have a better chance of being heard by legislators if we refrain from using words like "decimate" and "destruction" in our letters to them and focus on real concerns (impact to infrastructure, schools, emergency services, etc.) and not making assumptions about what the development will look like or the types of people who will be living there. I think there are ways to share these concerns by posing them as questions (How does someone qualify for a home?)

Answer...The YNHA is in control of the application process and according to the presentation the first qualifying factor is that the applicant " must be homeless "....while this may cause concern we must look very carefully at what has happened to the make the individuals homeless, i.e., was the party burned out in a fire, did an internal Confederated Tribe issue force them out of there current living situation ? Did the individual request Repatriation to there Natural living site ? These are some of the concerns and questions that were placed before me by my Native American friends and neighbors prior to the meeting as well as after.. I will be asking these questions to help facilitate a solution.

Question...Who will enforce any rules ?

Answer...This is where is gets even more complicated. For initial Law Enforcement action we call the Klickitat County Sheriff.

For Housing compliance issues it is the YNHA who is responsible for maintenance

Question... May I ask, do you reside in Dallesport as well ?

Answer... I was Born in Klickitat County, I was Raised in Klickitat County and yes I reside in Dallesport...My Parents have lived here in this Location since the 1990's and Before that just East of here. I am also a Current Board Member of the Dallesport Community Council. I led action on the Maley Property Request South of the Post Office and I will be leading this action as well. I am a Trained Facilitator / Negotiator and spent my entire Career doing this kind of work in every business segment world wide.

Question... Should there had been a different decision made when it comes to Incorporation...maybe these up and coming controversial issues could have been avoided? Or at least minimized and had an expected plan set for the community. Growth will continue to happen as long as all rules and regulations are met.

Answer...The cost of running a Incorporated Government is quite a chunk of change....We reside in a Designated Community Area.... and Klickitat County and the various Departments have for the most part been forthcoming on providing assistance and doing their jobs. The largest problem that all communities face today is Growth and Growth Issues..... to this end we must realize that we are going to grow and The Klickitat County Government is and has been responsive to our requests and they do understand the Kind of Community we want to be. Any Developer can ask for anything they want..... but there is a Asking and then there is a Getting....All of this is part of a process of Growth. What we are faced with right now.... 200 year old treaties are being completed.... 150 year old agreements are being finalized.... 70 year old contracts are being fulfilled and as you can see, we as current residents are left to finish off what was Started and never worked on until now....This is never more apparent than when Eric from USACoE talked about being given an USG official directive to complete work started and never completed to this problem existed long before we were born

Question...Has Dallesport ever had the thought or option of being incorporated?

Answer...Yes, there was a discussion about this some 20 years ago. One of the reasons it was a no go is Taxes double, and the population then was minimal compared to now.

Question...Has Dallesport passed on the option?

Answer...beyond the doubling of taxes there will come a time when we will incorporate as a city. There are population counts that need to be considered and the current industries in our area are against it. This is an issue that we will need to address in the near future.

Question...When is the next community council meeting?

Answer...The Dallesport Community Council meets every Second Thursday of every month... so the next meeting is 6-8-2017.. while there will be a speaker with presentation at this meeting I have asked for some time to give a short update and answer some questions if just to note the questions and get back to you when I have the answers.

Question...I won't be able to attend. When & where will the minutes be available ?

Answer... There were people in the meeting that were recording the proceedings.. as to the minutes because it was a Presentation Setting.... there is no document that will cover both presentations..... may I ask that you put your questions out here and I will respond to them as best we can, there are many unanswered questions and we are working nonstop to get the answers..... please note that this is an ongoing situation and as developments happen I will keep everyone posted here.

Question...How do we get to the development you saw?

Answer..... I have placed a call to YNHA and asked for a tour of the YNHA projects in Wapato and Toppenish... the Target date is Sunday June 4th, I talked to Preston at the YNHA and he will be checking with Craig and Davis to see what we can arrange.

I have also asked a community member to check on rates to rent a bus. At a minimum I would like to meet at the Yakima Nation Casino, perhaps have lunch and go on a tour. At a maximum would like us to rent a bus, get picked up The Dallesport Middle School and be driving to Toppenish and then have a YNHA member present a talk and tour on our bus so that everyone can get information at the same time. As this develops I will let you know.... I should have the Bus Rental Rates on 5-15-2017.

Question...Why are the Yakima Indian's needing riverfront property?

Answer...Native American Peoples (Tribes) lost their lands and river access when the Bonneville Dam, The Dalles Dam and the John Day Dam created lakes and flooded there lands.

Treaties were with tribes and Councils and US Government based. Agreements were US Government Based and could be US Army Corp of Engineer based. Contracts are also US Government Based and are primarily US Army Corp of Engineer based.

I wish to point out that my family has been in this area before Washington State even existed. Growing up I remember the houses along the river and locations there of. These are legal documents and they do need to be executed and completed. I am very grateful to be working on this project for our area as I believe there are workable solutions to the problems presented and I will do everything to make sure that a reasonable and workable solution is found to benefit every American Citizen.

George Cooper Receives State Award for Community Leadership

Lyle High School Alumnus George Cooper, Lyle Class of 1958, was honored on May 23 as a 2017 Washington Association of School Administrators (WASA) award winner for community leadership. The award was presented at WASA's awards ceremony at the Educational Service Center 112 in Vancouver, Washington.

Although the school has undergone many changes since he graduated in 1958, Cooper has remained a passionate supporter of Lyle High School. Most recently, George has championed the creation of a weight facility to benefit our student athletes and our entire community.

He has personally donated $5,500 to make this facility a reality and has spent hours helping procure slightly used equipment, frequently partnering with current Lyle students to do so. "We are proud to have him as a graduate and leader in our alumni association and so thankful for his mentorship to our current day Cougars," Superintendent Andrew Kelly said.

When asked why he does all that he does, Cooper replied, "Because in Lyle, ALL means ALL!"

"We thank George for his heart and passion for our kids," Kelly added.

Spring Youth Forum

Looks like our students had a great time at the Washington Prevention Spring Youth Forum at the Great Wolf Lodge! They were there representing TADAA, our local youth coalition against alcohol and drug abuse. The goal of the Spring Youth Forum is to recognize and reward youth prevention teams that have implemented a successful prevention project within their communities and give students from across the state an opportunity to learn from one another. Read more about TADAA and the Spring Youth Forum here, <http://springyouthforum.org/>.
