Book Report

By Judy Bane

"The Force" by Don Winslow

Our ends know our beginnings, but the reverse isn't true . . .

All Denny Malone wants is to be a good cop.

He is "the King of Manhattan North," a, highly decorated NYPD detective sergeant and the real leader of "Da Force." Malone and his crew are the smartest, the toughest, the quickest, the bravest, and the baddest, an elite special unit given unrestricted authority to wage war on gangs, drugs and guns. Every day and every night for the eighteen years he's spent on the Job, Malone has served on the front lines, witnessing the hurt, the dead, the victims, the perps. He's done whatever it takes to serve and protect in a city built by ambition and corruption, where no one is clean - including Malone himself.

What only a few know is that Denny Malone is dirty: he and his partners have stolen millions of dollars in drugs and cash in the wake of the biggest heroin bust in the city's history. Now Malone is caught in a trap and being squeezed by the Feds, and he must walk the thin line between betraying his brothers and partners, the Job, his family, and the woman he loves, trying to survive, body and soul, while the city teeters on the brink of a racial conflagration that could destroy them all.

Based on years of research inside the NYPD, this is the great cop novel of our time and a book only Don Winslow could write: a haunting and heartbreaking story of greed and violence, inequality and race, crime and injustice, retribution and redemption that reveals the seemingly insurmountable tensions between the police and the diverse citizens they serve. A searing portrait of a city and a courageous, heroic, and deeply flawed man who stands at the edge of its abyss, The Force is a masterpiece of urban living full of shocking and surprising twists, leavened by flashes of dark humor, a morally complex and utterly riveting dissection of modern American society and the controversial issues confronting and dividing us today.

Anthony Rizzi was re-elected. The Council appointed him as Vice-Chairman. His term runs through 2020.

Sally Swing was elected to continue in the position she was appointed to last January. She was affirmed to continue as Treasurer. Her term runs through 2019.

David McNeal was elected to a position ending in 2019. This is to fill the position vacated by Elaine Kinchloe.

William "Bill" Clark was a write-in candidate, to fill the position vacated by the resignation of Jack Kinchloe. His term ends in 2018.

The terms of Mary Ann Pauline and Pj Sisseck will be up for election in 2018. The term of William Morris will be up for election in 2019.

The County Commissioners are discussing changes to the regulations on Accessory Dwelling Units (ADUs), commonly known as "Granny Flats". These had been allowed on a temporary, "as needed" basis, and were supposed to be removed from use within 30 days of the death or removal of the originally intended occupant. This part of the regulation may be removed, provided the units meet all codes for power, water and sewage or septic service. Please express your concerns to the County Commissioners. The Community Council suspects most ADUs are in place to skirt zoning rules about building density.

The Halloween Bash was a big success thanks to all the volunteers and participants. We truly appreciated the young people who came to assist. They are Isabella Rubio and Joe Rodriguez. Thanks again!

Please join us for the next Council meeting on December 14th. 7pm at the Dallesport Community Center.

Monique Elaine McNeel Myers

Jan. 30, 1964 -
Oct 27, 2017

Monique "Nique" Elaine McNeel Myers, 53, died at her home in Lyle, Wash., on Friday, Oct. 27, 2017, surrounded by loved ones.

Monique was a beloved wife, daughter, mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, niece, and friend. She was born in Vancouver, Wash., the second of four children, to Roxene (Sarvela) Woods and Harold Frank McNeel, Jr. on Jan. 30, 1964. She spent her childhood near Vancouver, until her family moved to Lyle in 1976 where she graduated Valedictorian from Lyle High School in 1982. For 38 years she shared her life with her high school sweetheart, Scott Myers, and together they created a loving and close-knit family in Lyle, including their three children, Meagan, Chad and Kailee. In addition to her longtime employment at US Bank in both The Dalles and Hood River, she, along with her husband, owned and operated the Murdock Mini Mart in Murdock, Wash.

Intelligent, adventurous and kind, Monique had a great sense of humor and made everyone who knew her feel welcomed and at ease with her beautiful smile, rosy cheeks and gentle spirit. She took great pleasure in experiencing life whether it was cozying up with a good book, sharing her grandmother's playful old fashioned songs, gathering with friends and family, or traveling both near and far. She took numerous trips throughout the years—her favorites included her visits to the Oregon and Washington coasts, camping in the mountains and her unforgettable adventure to Ireland with her daughter Kailee. But above all else, she was a proud grandmother and cherished her time with her grandchildren, Lucas Scott Padgett, Callaghan Brent Padgett and Haley Elaine Padgett.

Monique will be deeply missed by her loving husband Scott Myers; children, Meagan (Josh) Padgett, Chad (Carmen) Myers, Kailee Myers; her parents, Roxene and Keith Woods, Frank and Theresa McNeel; her siblings, Chris (Andrea) McNeel, Jenny (Jeff) Heldstab, Adam McNeel, Kevin (Rebecca) Woods, Kurt Woods, Brian (Wendy) Scattergood, Kevin (Jerissa) Scattergood; three grandchildren and numerous loving relatives and friends. She was preceded in death by her sister René McNeel Smith (Robert Smith, Jr.).

A memorial service will be held at Covenant Christian Church in The Dalles, Ore., on Saturday, Nov. 11, 2017, at 1 p.m. A private graveside service will be held at Balch Cemetery in Lyle, Wash.

Insitu Announces Remotely Piloted Aircraft Services Contract With Qgc

Insitu has announced a contract with QGC, to leverage Remotely Piloted Aircraft Systems (RPAS) to deliver automated infrastructure inspection and management services for its operations within Queensland, Australia.

In a first-of-its-kind program in Australia, the contract in the Surat Basin represents a significant move towards the use of autonomous air vehicles and advanced analytics in the area of broad acre infrastructure operations and maintenance.

Vice President Insitu Commercial and General Manager Insitu Pacific Andrew Duggan said that the contract with Shell's QGC business was the culmination of two years of extensive testing and evaluation of Insitu Commercial's aerial sensing, data analysis and data distribution capabilities.

"Insitu's robust systems consistently excel in rugged environments, and have the range to cover broad areas to provide vital analysis and alerts to site managers, safety experts and surveyors," Duggan said.

Bill Langin, QGC's General Manager Upstream said, "this project is a global first for Beyond Visual Line of Site (BVLOS) Remotely Piloted Aerial System operations. The partnership will allow QGC to drive improvements in our safety performance, more efficiently and effectively survey our infrastructure and reduce our footprint on the environment. The inclusion of BVLOS RPAS in our overall Smart CSG suite of technology means we will potentially reduce travel by up to 800,000km/year."

The BVLOS flight operations are conducted in the Surat Basin over a broad area of Civil Aviation Safety Authority (CASA) approved airspace encompassing over 700,000 Ha. The employment of RPAS has provided multiple increases in both efficiency and safety:

The inspection of wells and other infrastructure hardware components (tanks, valves, floats, vents, pipes etc..) is now largely automated, saving many hundreds of thousands of kilometers of driving for QGC inspection crews;

Assessment of the environmental surrounds of the infrastructure (fencing structure integrity, road subsidence/flooding/-access, erosion, livestock and vegetation encroachment) is now easy and straightforward, even after significant weather events; and

Immediate response to operational contingencies is reliably available, enabling rapid assessment and resolution of problems, bringing vital infrastructure back on line sooner than previously possible.

The data collected by the RPAS is automatically processed and analyzed in near real-time with actionable information (including equipment check lists and operational status) before being delivered directly to field operators and supervisors, and management staff in the headquarters facility in Brisbane.

"With the support of the Boeing Company's Phantom Works International group, we have been able to provide state of the art data collection, analysis, and data dissemination tools," Duggan said, and added, "We're excited to continue our partnership with QGC to provide tailored solutions that are changing how onshore gas fields are managed, operated and explored today."

TRIAGE

Volume I - Issue II

On that fateful day back in 1926 when tragedy struck a four year old girl, an accidental shotgun blast to the lower leg. The Mother heard the shotgun go off and her children screaming and recognized the need to act quickly. She whisked her child into the house to control the bleeding, while sending her son on horseback to the closest neighbor; over two miles away. The neighbor mounted the boy's horse and raced back toward the emergency, leaving the boy to walk home.

When the neighbor arrived, he helped break into a shed and used the auto to transport her down from the Panikanik area into White Salmon. The girl for many hours endured excruciating pain and blood loss. At that time, no hospital existed on the Washington side of the river in our county. There happened to be a surgeon in town who quickly determined there was no hope for the leg and all effort now shifted toward saving the precious life of a four year old girl. Such was life "back in the day." emergencies were typically handled by family, friends, and neighbors with whatever equipment, medicine or lifesaving knowledge that was available to them.

That was over 90 years ago and we can say a lot has changed since then. We now have three-24 hour staffed ambulances, two hospitals and a number of doctors available on call day and night in our county. But we are still neighbors helping neighbors.

We frequently are requested to offer public assistance to those that need help getting up back up from a non-injury fall, transferring critical patients to Portland area hospitals for a higher level of care then can be provided in the Gorge and all the other 911 calls for service every day. All told we respond to over 1800 calls for service and this continues to increase each year. Neighbor helping neighbor.

Many of the EMTs and Paramedics working for Klickitat County EMS District #1 are longtime residents of the county. While some do not currently live here, for at least 48 hours each week they do and they feel a part of the community they serve. It is this commitment to you, the citizens we serve, that inspired us to look to the future. One way to do is this, is to offer a number of community first aid and prevention programs. We will be sharing this information with you after the first of the year, as our way of giving back to the community we serve.

With the holidays approaching we want to remind you that KCEMS, along with nurses and medical care staff, law enforcement, 911 dispatchers and firefighters are all going to be working during the holidays to serve you. We want you to enjoy your families company, so please take that extra moment if you find yourself enjoying a bit too much eggnog or you're in a hurry and forget that there may be black ice on our roadways. Please take your time, and help us all celebrate the holidays without incident. BE SAFE AND HAPPY HOLIDAYS

Dave

Dave Lapof, Operations Manager for Klickitat County EMS District #1, and has been involved in emergency services since 1988, starting his career as a volunteer on Lummi Island in Whatcom County, and served 20 years as a volunteer firefighter in both Washington and Oregon, before becoming a chief officer for the past seven years

Vision Screening

During the beginning of October, some Lions Club members did assist with vision screening at the Lyle Elementary School. Students ranging from kindergarten, first, third and fifth grades were tested for any possible vision problems. The students who did have vision problems were referred to optometrist for further testing. Assisting with vision screening at the Lyle Schools has been one of several important annual projects for the Lions Club.

2017 School of Distinction

Superintendent Andrew Kelly articulated an ambitious goal when he joined Lyle School District in 2013: To establish the district as a national model for rural excellence by supporting all children and ensuring equality in outcome for each student. An announcement from the Center for Educational Effectiveness indicates that, through hard work and targeted instructional strategies, the district is poised to achieve that goal.

Dallesport Elementary is being honored as a 2017 School of Distinction for sustained improvement over a five - year period in English language arts (ELA) and math. Part of the unified pre-Kindergarten through 12th grade campus of Lyle Schools, Dallesport Elementary is the only school in Klickitat County to receive the honor this year.

This honor is presented to the top five percent of schools in the state each year by the Center for Educational Effectiveness (CEE), in partnership with the Association of Educational Service Districts (AESD), The Association of Washington School Principals (AWSPP), Washington Association of School Administrators (WASA), Washington State School Directors' Association (WSSDA) and the Washington State Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development (WSASCD).

Superintendent Kelly often shares a quote from Ron Edwards. It says, "We can, whenever and wherever we choose, successfully teach all children whose schooling is of interest to us. We already know more than we need to do that. Whether or not we do it must finally depend on how we feel about the fact that we haven't so far."

"This award is proof that Lyle School District knows what to do and is doing it on behalf of our kids," Superintendent Kelly says.

This is the 11th year that CEE and their partners have recognized schools achieving significant and sustained growth in student achievement with the School of Distinction Award. Elementary and middle schools are recognized for sustained improvement in ELA and math achievement.

Superintendent Kelly notes that accelerated improvement happens in schools when:

- The school and district embody an adult culture of high expectations, collaboration and intrinsic belief that each of our children can reach grade level proficiency and beyond;
- The school and district have structures in place that allow teachers to teach and scholars to learn, and;
- The school staff consistently use strategies that allow kids to learn; pushing kids who are at grade level ahead and accelerating learning for our kids who are behind to ensure that they get caught up.

The school's staff has worked diligently to create a culture in which all students can achieve their highest potential. "I'm so proud of the efforts of our staff and the way our community has rallied to support our school achievement efforts. We want the kids in Lyle to have every opportunity to succeed," Kelly adds.
